ARTA 4957 Special Topics "Animal, Myth, and Ritual" Course Description: Part seminar, part studio, this course we will explore how animal imagery has been used in art from prehistoric times to now. We will start with viewing ethnographic films of shamanic rituals, rock art from Zimbabwe, and other historical models. Then, we will examine the work from contemporary artists such as Ann Hamilton, Matthew Barney, and Sam Easterson. For the studio component, students will be exposed to prehistoric art techniques through demonstrations, as well as produce a small body of artwork in tandem to the course topics.

Note: The professor invites students to contact him silver@etsu.edu to be granted access to the first module (from last summer's course). This will allow you to sample the narrated PPTs and coordinated materials. He will also provide a copy of last year's syllabus upon request. This year's syllabus will be available December 16. ENVH 3040 W01 is being taught in a very highly accelerated format in winter term. A minimum of two modules will be covered each week. A module includes readings, discussion forum, study questions, and a quiz. (The format used in other semesters has typically been one module per week). Students should not take this course if they have more than one outside commitment such as: another course; a job; family care duties; etc.. Vacation travel is ill-advised. No deadlines will fall on Christmas Day or New Year's Day. However, deadlines may occur in the early afternoons on the respective "eves" of the holidays (i.e., 12/24 and 12/31).
