ARTA-1201-010	Drawing	51824	3	MTWRF	09:00 AM	12:40 PM	A006	327	ROSS	ARTA	7	3	4	Y

ARTA 2957-010 Special Topics Course Description "Rendering Tools & Techniques for Drawing": If you are interested in colorful hyperrealism or just trying to get smoother gradated transitions with graphite â€” this drawing course will hone your skills in rendering. Over this summer session students will be instructed in the use of colored and aquarelle pencil, silver point, powdered graphite and other drawing implements. We will be drawing in the studio and in the landscape on projects with fine artists paper. Each project will push the studentâ€™s ability with traditional medium application, detail, gradation, proportion, use of light, and composition. This course is useful for students with intermediate through advanced skill levels in drawing.

CSCI 1100 is a required proficiency for all Freshmen students. A proficiency exam or CSCI 1100 must be taken before you will be allowed to register as a sophomore. This course does not count as a UIT intensive course. A portion of this course will be taught using ETSU's distance education system. Students are required to attend class each week. Please contact the UIT office at burke@etsu.edu or 439-6970 for more information.

Prerequisite(s): ENGL 1010 and 1020 or equivalents. By looking at Shakespearean films as exciting, rich, and meaningful texts themselves, this class will consider cinematic Shakespeare as a contribution to the reinterpretation and appropriation of his works. We will also discuss relevant issues as they arise (race, class, gender, sexuality). The course will focus primarily on film adaptations that follow the texts closely, but it will also examine films that might incorporate Shakespeare in a more original manner. The course will be taught online.

HIST 4956/5956 History of American Capitalism: This course will examine the major issues and trajectories of American capitalism. It will focus on the reasons for and effects of capitalist growth. Students will gain an understanding of how North America turned from a relatively minor outpost of the Atlantic economy to the powerhouse of the world economy. We will discuss and examine, including but not limited, the Civil War, gender relations, race, structures of American businesses, and national and international economic development. Lastly, emphasis will be placed on the global context of American economic development while situating it deeply in the political and social developments of our time.

The dates for this Study Abroad are May 8 - May 29. This course is taught in Japan. It is based on new communicative approaches rather than traditional methods of language education that focus purely on grammar and sentence structure. It uses the Marugoto Course books, new textbooks published by the Japan foundation. The aim of this course is to use Japanese language skills to get to know people, order in Japanese restaurants, and take part in many other Japanese related events. At the end of each session, participants will be able to perform specific, practical tasks in Japanese. The students will try to do these tasks by communicating with Japanese people in Japan as assignments in each chapter. Learning about Japanese culture and people is a very important part of this course. The students will learn about them by communicating with Japanese college students, visiting historical places and museums, and watching traditional Kabuki theater and a traditional Japanese sports, Sumo, and so forth.
